Bert B. Hanson Services Saturday

WEST UNION (Special) — Bert B. Hanson, 78, died Thursday, May 23, at Palmer Memorial Hospital. Hanson was a consulting civil engineer and founder of the Bert B. Hanson & Associates with offices in West Union and Independence. He had served as City Engineer for several years.

Services will be held Saturday, 2 p.m. at the United Methodist church with the Rev. E. E. Basye officiating. Burial will be in the West Union Cemetery. Burnham-Wood Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his wife, Florence; two sons, Roger, West Union, and Reed, New York City; one brother, Willard, Cedar Falls; two sisters, Mrs. Walter (Bessie) Wright, and Bertha Hanson, both of Osage.

Last Rites For

Mrs. Grace McKenzie

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Ross McKenzie of Dazey, N. Dak. She was the former Grace Diehl of Hazleton. Services will be held for Mrs. McKenzie at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 25 in Dazey, N. Dak.

Lions Members

Oelwein Lions Club members are urged to contact Rod Sundstrom, Jaycee representative, for work assignment involving traffic direction on the main tourist route through Oelwein Sunday, May 26.

Driver's License

Lt. Stan Kuch of the Iowa Highway Patrol, District No. 10, said officers will conduct Driver's License examinations in the council chambers at City Hall until further notice.

Kuch said they originally planned to hold the examinations at the Chamber of Commerce building, but other commitments have caused the move.

Persons whose license may have expired during the week of the tornado will not have to take the driving test, according to Kuch.

Oelwein Youth Severely Burned

Lyle Fox, 18-year-old son of the Vallard Fox, 340 Ninth Ave., SW, was severely burned Friday morning when the shirt he was wearing caught fire.

Fox received serious burns on his arms and back. According to relatives, they could not get his shirt off in time to prevent the fire from burning the major part of his body.

He was rushed to Mercy Hospital and later transferred to University Hospitals at Iowa City. Fox is in Ward C, 5th Floor.

Correction

Iowa Highway Patrolmen in Cedar Rapids informed Register newsmen that the name of the parents of Charlotte Derflinger was listed as the Dwight Derflingers, which is incorrect. Her father is Donald Derflinger, Aurora, and the grandparents' name is Dwight. She is a student at Starmont.

Charlotte is hospitalized in St. Luke's Hospital, Cedar Rapids following an auto accident near Walker Wednesday afternoon.
